Dear Mom & Dad,

I'm sort of tired tonite as I worked a little late to build up some extra time for our trip this summer. We plan to drive out with Murray and then fly back. We may go to Miami first and spend a weekend in the Bahamas before going West.

We have plenty to do around here. We played tennis last weekend and cleaned up our back room. There was quite a stack of newspaper that we brought to the dump. We had our friends who are moving to Minneapolis over for dinner and are going to a party Saturday night.

Yes, it is getting close to April 18 and I hope you won't disown me for turning 30! At least I know that I have the youngest-looking mother of anyone in my class. I wear a ML if you want to commemorate the occasion.

My work is interesting right now and Vickie is happy sewing, reading, etc.

Also I am working on an article about my thesis project for Howard who wrote to me again-

John
